PRODUCT DETAILS

Material: Crafted with precision and sustainability in mind, these Toorx Punch Mitts feature eco-leather material. The eco-leather not only looks sleek but also serves as a responsible choice, aligning with eco-conscious values while delivering the performance you need.

Color: These punch mitts come in a striking black color with white edges, giving them a classic and elegant appearance that stands out in any gym or training environment. The combination of black and white ensures they look sharp while hiding wear and tear effectively.

Antishock Polyethylene Foam: Toorx has incorporated advanced antishock polyethylene foam into these mitts, ensuring that your hands and wrists are well-protected during intense training sessions. This foam provides excellent shock absorption, reducing the impact on your hands and allowing you to train longer and more effectively.

Padding: The mitts feature a generous amount of padding, designed to absorb the force of punches and strikes. This padding not only protects the trainer's hands but also allows for a more comfortable experience for both the trainer and the athlete.

Anatomic Design: Toorx has paid meticulous attention to the design of these mitts. They are anatomically shaped to fit comfortably in the trainer's hand, offering a secure grip and allowing for precise target placement. The anatomic design ensures that the mitts feel like a natural extension of your hand, enhancing your control and accuracy during training.

One Size Fits All: These punch mitts are available in one size, making them accessible to a wide range of users. The adjustable straps and secure fastenings ensure a snug fit on various hand sizes, promoting a secure and comfortable training experience for trainers and athletes alike.
