PRODUCT DETAILS

Toorx Wall Ball 12 Kg

These medicine wall balls are ideal for performing a wide range of functional movements, core training, and CrossFit exercises. Perfect for developing your speed, endurance, hip flexors, and lumbar strength. The balls are made out of a special blend of high-density sponges and covered with a layer of machine-stitched leatherette. This stitching method ensures that the balls will not deform when thrown against the wall.

Key Features:

- High-density sponges
- Layered with machine-stitched leatherette

Benefits Of The Product:

Wall balls are great way to get some cardio in without running or walking. Performing a few sets of wall ball exercises can improve your cardiovascular fitness as well as boost your heart rate.

There are countless wall ball exercises that anyone can perform. Training with wall balls is also a great way to train functional movements which will help you in performing daily tasks.
